What is the IMPACT Program?

IMPACT stands for Intentional Model and Practice Approach for Clients to Thrive. This competency-based program works side-by-side with existing programs and interventions to increase the probability that safe and higher impact wellbeing, resilience, educational or behavioural outcomes will be delivered.

Who is the Workshop For?

Anyone who has completed the IMPACT - Respond Rather Than React (RRTR) or Introduction to Intentional Practice workshop and would like to acquire the advanced knowledge and skills to employ intentional processes and strategies within their supporting adult roles.

Workshop Overview

This experiential and engaging workshop re-activates and then significantly extends the introductory RRTR concepts to advanced applications. Trainees will acquire the confidence and skills to employ intentional communication and processes that responds to the dynamic and changing needs of clients.

Key Workshop Outcomes

Trainees develop 'Growth Action Plans' with (1) growth intent categorised by the building blocks of awareness, skills and mindsets and (2) activating scripts and strategies sequentially linked to specific growth targets. Trainees can employ the 'What-What-How' as an intentional communication framework.

Key Content

- Mindfulness and mindful intent in practice.
- The 'Life Buoyancy Model', 'Growth Target' and 'Building Block Staircase' as growth-focused models of intentional practice.
- The application of the What-What-How' as a coaching and communication framework.
- Advanced applications of the 'Activation Cycle' across therapeutic and trauma-informed practice settings.
- The five core skills of intentional practice.
- Scaffolding client growth through the building blocks of awareness, skills and mindsets.
- The advanced script applications of validation, curiosity and coaching.

Accreditation

Participants are accredited by LBI as 'Intentional Practitioners'. Advanced workshop is an entry pre-requisite for IMPACT Coach accreditation, and access to higher level LBI resources, support and coaching.
